60 MILLION YOUNG PEOPLE are enrolled in colleges and universities around the world. They represent 1 percent of the world's population – the powerful 1 percent that go on to leadership roles in government, business and education. College students are encouraged to “find themselves” while being exposed to a broad spectrum of world views.

connection>>

making the connection...

FACED WITH MORE OPPORTUNITIES than ever before, college students are making decisions that will impact their future, not just their tomorrows, but the rest of their lives. Decisions they make will be influenced by those who capture their attention.

decisions>>

so many decisions...

WHILE THEY ARE MORE CONNECTED

with technology than any previous generation, college students are seeking genuine truth and looking to connect in lasting relationships. They need positive influences that relevantly connect with them.

[strategic]

USING INNOVATIVE STRATEGIES and leveraging technology, Campus Crusade for Christ staff have the opportunity to positively influence today's students. Ministering at college campuses nationwide, we have unique opportunities to share the gospel, often using dynamically relevant tools like the Freshman Survival Kit.

making a positive impact...

WORKING WITH STUDENTS at West Virginia University was my first role with Campus Crusade for Christ. After two years there, I moved to Orlando, Florida, to be part of the Campus Media Team where I have the opportunity to influence far more students than ever before. As the Design Systems Administrator I help the team develop innovative and compelling tools to help accelerate the spread of the gospel on campuses around the world.

leveraging media and technology for ministry...

CONCERNED INDIVIDUALS like the Stoltzfuses are an integral part of my ministry with Campus Crusade for Christ. Their consistent prayer and financial support enable me to fully devote my time and attention to this vocational ministry to which God has called me. Through our partnership, they contribute significantly to making an eternal impact in the lives of students around the world.
